HONGKONG, JANUARY 7TH, 1910. OUR Peking Correspondent, in a telegram we published vesterday, told us that Chinese Government in declining to refer the Macao boundary dispute to The Hague Arbitration Tribunal for settlement gives the excuse that "foreigners favour foreigners." China could not have given to the world a more correct measure of the ignorance, self-conceit and the menta myopia of her statesmen than is conveyed by those three words, impugning the integrity and impartiality of a Court which commands the implicit confidence of the whole civilised world. The plain fact of the matter is that China is trying to wriggle out of the Treaty made with Portugal in 1887. By that Treaty China confirmed to Portugal the "perpetual occupation and government of Macao and its Dependencies as any other Portuguese The question for decision then would appear to be: What did the Colony of Macao and the Dependencies comprise in 1887 when Mr. J. D. CAMPBELL, Docks. of the Imperial Maritime Customs, discussed did the term comprise a few months later when a Treaty was negotiated at Peking in which China confirmed in its entirety the article of the Protocol we have quoted, and expressly agreed that "everything in respect of the boundaries shall continue as at present, without addition, diminution or alteration by either of the parties," until the delimitation of the boundaries is concluded

by a special convention. It may, we suppose, be taken for granted that the Chinese plenipotentiaries when they discussed this Article of the Treaty had before them a rough map of the territory over which Portugal at that time claimed to exercise sovereignty, and the production of that map before any impartial man, be he Mongol or Caucasian, ought to be sufficient to enable him to decide whether it is competent for China now to contend that Portugal has no claim to territory adjacent to Macao over which she was exercising the rights of ownership when that Treaty was negotiated—rights Selections of the Purest and Finest Quality which she had exercised for nearly three Imported from the Leading London, New centuries before. If the delimitation of the boundaries was at that time known to involve such large questions as were raised by the Chinese Commissioner during the negotiations in Hongkong, it is inconceivable that the Treaty provision would have been signed in its present form. The Portuguese Commissioner when he came RAISINS, MIXED out apparently-had-no-idea that the negotiations would assume the form they did. However, now that China has definitely refused to allow the dispute to be settled by The Hague Tribunal, public curiosity will be aroused as to what the next development will be or whether there will be any new development. The Treaty guarantees that so Prince Dielk Nobharadh, has been drowned long as the delimitation of the boundaries is not concluded everything in respect to them shall continue as at present, and China has, therefore, precluded herself from interfering with the Portuguese n the quiet enjoyment of the territory they have occupied for so many years. China's debated at the Sanitary Board as to whether a certain matter should be confidentially or publicly discussed has left an impression on the public mind that some grave danger to the public health is threatened by the pollution of the Pokfulum reservoir. W have heard dark hints of "a cholera scare, or something of the kind, but there seems to leaves two children, one aged three and one be not the slightest justification for any such surmise, and we think it is to be regretted that a statement was not made at the Board meeting which would have set the whole matter in its proper light before the public. A suggestion made by Mr. Shelton Hoorer at the end of the discussion disclosed that the matter which the officials were so anxious to conceal from the are staying at Southsea, under the care of Capt. public was a complaint from the military | Li. of the Imperial Chinese Navy. The cadets, representative " relative to the discharge of dirty water from the hullah at Mount spend four or six, and in some case eight years, Austin into the Pokfulum reservoir." It was brought to the notice of the BEDFORD three weeks ago. How long the alleged danger has existed we do not know publication. After that hour the supply is it is one of the things that the public might Chinese Navy. have been told in the course of the discussion, for it would have enabled the public to form an idea of the importance of the matter. Presumably what is now complained of has been going on for years, without detriment to the public health. If so, it might with advantage have been stated in the course of the discussion, and especial attention might have. been drawn to the report of the Government Analyst submitted at the same meeting. sample of water taken from the Pokfulum gervice since the date of the complaint was certified by Mr. Browne to be of "excellent quality," and if anything further is necessary to satisfy the public that no cause exists for apprehension we may point to the fact that the complaint was received three weeks ago and will not be "dealt with" by the Board for another ten days. To discuss such a matter as this in camera is but part Svendsen's Romance with a violin solo by to manufacture a scare. Much the better plan in the interests of all concerned would have been to bring the matter publicly before the Board accompanied by a Fliegende Hollaender" by Wagner was special report on the subject from the beawtifully rendered. SPEKCHES BY PRINCE HOUN AND THE KAISER.

London, January 6th. The Chinese Naval Commission had an audience of the Emperor William at Berlin, most of the Princes, including the Crown Prince, being present H.I.H. Prince Tsai Hsun, addressing the Emperor, expressed his respectful thanks for the reception, and said the name of the German Navy was of good report throughout the world. The admirable achievements of the German shipyards were also universally known. His Imperial Highness rejoiced therefore to see Germany's progress with his own eyes. He expressed the hope that the friendly relations between Germany and China would grow more intimate, that peace and harmony would ever prevail, and that the Emperor would enjoy many years to happily reign over his people.

The Kaiser, in reply, thanked His words. The dispatch of the Commisand he had given orders to facilitate to the utmost their task. He hoped achievements, and he was convinced that the visit would contribute foster and strengthen the very friendrelations between China and

BEFORE THE FULL COURT.

THE BASLE MISSION LIBEL CASE.

The Hon. Mr. Rees Davies, K.C. (Acting Chief Justice) and Mr. H. H. J. Gompert (Pulsne Judge) sat to hear the point of law reserved for the consideration of the Full Court as to whether the plaintiff in the libel action against the Hongkong Sheung Po was competent to sue. Mr. M. W. Slade, instructed by Mr. Deacon, of Messrs. Deacon, Looker and Deacon, appeared for plaintiffs, defendant being represented by Sir Henry Berkeley, K.C. instructed by Mr. Otto Kong Sing.

Mr. Slade-This was an action brought by the plaintiffs, who are a corporation incorporated by Ordinance of this Colony, for a libel which they allege to be a libel upon them. The statement of claim states what the plaintiffs are: Plaintiff is a corporation and carries on, and at all times material to the issue in this nction carried on inter alia, the business or profession of medical practitioner at Ho Yuen. in the province of Kwantung, in the Empire of China." By their defence the defendants denied | plaintiff. that the practitioner carried on the business of medical practitioner at Ho Yuen. The plaintiffs' corporation gave evidence that at Ho-Yuen they had a hospital under the charge of a qualified medical men in their employment. At that hospital charges were made to those who could afford to pay, but in cases of extreme | custody. The proceedings were under the poverty medical assistance was given gratuitous- | Chinese Extradition Ordinance. Mr. Slade ly. The defendants tendered no evidence at was instructed by Mr. Otto Kong Sing all in any issue in the case, so the position of The Acting Attorney-General (Hon. Although it was proved in the evidence that the plaintiff was a missionary society and did not carry on the hospital for pecuniary profit. yet it was a business according to the Imperial Highness for his friendly authorities. The question of carrying on a philanthrophic institution when small payments are made for services rendered, but where no sion afforded him lively satisfaction, attempt is made to carry it on at a profit, has been considered in a number of cases. This business which the corporation carry on undoubtedly would be a business were it carried His Imperial Highness would find on by an ordinary person for the purpose of much worthy of interest in Germany's | making a profit out of it. I submit that a corporation carrying on business must carry on its business by means of pargons in its employto ment. A corpuration is a legal entity which carries on such business, trade occupation or calling, as it is in fact carried on by means of persons in its employ. Counsel then dealt with the law as to libel, pointing out that if the words complained of were capable defamatory construction the question to whether it was a libel or not should go to the jury, and explaining that the jury had The Commissioners leave to-morrow to consider whether the words used were defamatory and whether they damaged the doctor and

The Chief Justice-That was your case. Sir Henry Berkeley-Always assuming they had a right to sue.

Mr. Slade - The jury held that these untrue words did injure the society.

Sir Henry Berkeley—If they could sue. Mr. Slade went on to deal with the right of a corporation to bring actions for libel and slander. He quoted Lord Esher's words to the effect that the law of libel was one and the same as to all plaintiffs, and that every action for libel where the statement complained of was or was not a libel depended on the question whether the jury were of opinion that what had been published with regard to plaintiff would tend in the mind of people of ordinary sense to bring plaintiff into contempt, hatred or ridicul or injure his character. It was so that there might be a charge of libel brought against a corporation which was of such a character as to render libel meaningless because the corporation.

would be impossible of moral injury. The Chief Justice-Would not murder be such a case?

Mr. Slade-It all depends. If it were said a corporation which was a municipal corporation that it committed murder it would be no libel, bocause a municipal corporation cannot commit murder. But where it is said of a corporation which carries on the business of a hospital that they had conducted operations in such He says he writes with pain and an unskilful and unprofessional manner that death resulted, and their carelessness and ignorance of all ordinary rules of the profession were such that the death amounted

Mr. Slade-It is perfectly capable of committing acts, but it is not liable to the penalty. Your Lordships must draw a distinction between a series of acts which will in the case of an individual render the individual liable to the penalty imposed by criminal law and the civil consequences of those same acts when committed by an individual on behalf of his employer.

Sir Henry Berkeley asserted that no action will lie, because this libel is in respect to property situated beyond Hongkong. The corporate property is limited to Hongkong.

t would be open to Chinese newspapers to go on libelling missions to any extent. Sir Henry Berkeley submitted that the libel contained an imputation of criminal offence-a charge of murder or manslaughter-and as that imputation was a personal one an action for libel could not be founded on it at the suit of a corporate body. It was personal to the employee and did not reflect on the management of the business by the corporation. Mr. Slade replied to the argument of Sir Henry that the verdict of the jury made no difference, and submitted that the question which their Lordships had to decide was whether there was any evidence to go to the jury that the untrue words injured the plaintiff in its trading and professional character. The jury had found that they did injure the

AN EXTRADITION CASE. Mr. Slade moved for a rule nisi to be directed to the Captain Superintendent of Police to show cause why Sun A Wah, now detained in Victoria Gael, should not be discharged from appeared for the Crown, and Sir Henry Borkeley, instructed by Mr. Dennys, appeared for the Chinese Government.

Mr. Slade then addressed the arguing, firstly, that there was not proof that the prisoner was a subject of China, and, secondly, that no foreign warrant or equivalent or any written document of accusation made in Chins had been produced.

The hearing was adjourned until Saturday.

SPORTING NOTES.

Though the festivities associated with Christof sporting organisations, athletic exercises have not been neglected. Lawn tennishas in consequence received more attention than usual during the holidays, and though both football and cricket have been in a measure suspended there has just been sufficient to keep alive the interest of these who follow both games.

The Cricket Club has witnessed a series o interesting matches, and the hope of seeing good cricket - which was certainly realiseddrew many spectators to the ground. The two days' match between the Club and the United Services resulted in a win for the Service players by six wickets. The Club were unfortunate in losing their mainstays rather cheaply, and though the issue remained in doubt for some time, the good stand by Cartains Beasley and Garnett in the second innings practically made victory certain for their side.

The only League match played for over a fortnight was that between the R. E. and the Police As was to be expected the Sappers secured the game and the point, the Police failing to reach the century even with all their crack players batting.

The Sappers have the highest number of points to their credit in the League contest, but the Telgraphs head the list with the highest percentage, having won each of the two matches played The police have been very unfortunate this season, not having been able to secure a single win yet, although they have played five matches.

League cricket commences in earnest again on Saturday, on which day four matches are set down. Perhaps the most interesting is the meeting of the H.K.C.C. and the Civil Service The latter out of five matches played have won three, drawn one, and lost one, while the former out of three matches played have won two and lost one.

The H. K. C. C. are playing the Navy on Saturday next at 1.30 p.m. instead of on the 15th inst.

On Saturday, the 15th inst., the H.K.C.C. "A" team will play the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank on the H. K. C. C. Ground.

What was lost in quantity in football matches on Saturday afternoon was certainly fully compensated for by quality, the resuscitation of the Army-Navy fixture, which is an annual in every colony of any importance, and one of the leading fixtures in British football, proving a success far beyond the expectations of even the most sanguine of the promoters.

The total collapse of the Army team was unaccountable, as with few exceptions the players were recognised to be the best available in their respective positions. The experiment with Watts at full back was a success, and it is no exaggeration to state that he was the best on the field. At half the soldiers were quite as Bagnall would have been a decided improve- younger days. ment on Barton, the blocking tactics of former being effective enough to break up the defence of even the best balanced team. It was undoubtedly in the forward line that the team was weak. The quintette never seemed to work together, and Taylor spoiled his best opportunities by being offside. The pick of this department was certainly Nash, with Brown a good second with what little he got to do.

The Navy team treated the two thousand spectators to an exhibition of football which has rarely if ever been excalled in the Colony. One point in the composition of the team which contributed largely to its effectiveness was the similarity in style which characterised the play of the forwards, especially the inner trio.

Of the 22 players who took part in the match, one (Beazley) has played for the Army team at home, three (Tugwell, Sullivan and Reid) have played for the Navy, and six (Beazley, Taylor, Brewster, Dare, Barker and Watts) have represented the Army on previous occasions in the Colony,

The idea of making the match of Saturday the first of a series in a triangular league has been mosted, and although I do not think the civilians could beat the Navy I am convinced that if the strongest team was fielded a close game would result.

The Bedford team, who, by the way, are the Navy League champions, were caught napping by Flora on Saturday. Having defeated Flora on the previous Thursday by four goals to nil they put a weak team in the field with dissastrous result, so far as their chances of retaining the honour goes.

King Alfred still top the table with the full number of points for matches played, and unless Bedford spring a surprise on them the flagship. team will have no difficulty in winning this competition.

In the league for smaller ships Alacrity bid fair to become the champions, as they defeated Whiting, who had previously defeated all the other teams in the competition.

It seems to me very strange that advantage is not likely to be taken of the rules of the Hongkong Football Shield, which allows for any on the 1st instant, for Hongkong via Straits. number of the smaller ships combining to form

> The last of the H. K. League matches take place on Saturday, but as the Gunners have four points in hand, the result will not affect th destination of the Daily Press Cup.

The "bobbies" put up a good game against the Club in their annual fixture, and if any of the local secretaries were present I should not be surprised if some of the players take part in the shield ties.

Boxing figures prominently in the local sport at present, and more than the usual interest is being taken in the Lewis-Bellew fight which is due to take place this month. The Australian is undergoing strict training and is confident of

With the closing of entries for the Hongkong Hookey Cup to-morrow, the Hockey season proper may be said to commence. A larger number of friendly matches have been played this season than in former years, and a few new teams are in the field, so that I expect to hear of a record entry for the competition. OBSERVER.

GENERAL FRENCH VISITS HONGKONG.

Among the passengers by the P. and O. mail steamer Devanha, which arrived in port early yesterday morning, was General Sir John French, Inspector-General of the Forces, Brigadier-General D. Henderson, Staff Officer, and Lieut. the Hon, M.V. B. Brett, A.D.C. General French is on a tour of inspection, and will spend a fortnight in Hongkong. On landing at Blake Pier yesterday he was met by Major-General Broadwood, Officer Commanding. A guard of honour from the Buffs was drawn up before the pier, and after inspecting this the distinguished visitor, accompanied by General Broadwood, paid a visit to His Excellency the Governor at Government House. During his stay here the Inspector-General will be the guest of H.E. the Officer Commanding the Troops.

AN UNLUCKY CHINESE FORTUNE TELLER.

APPEALS, BUT RECEIVES A HEAVIER

Hong Wan Kai was recently convicted by a police magistrate at Singapore of having pretended to tell fortunes and using subtle craft with intent to deceive and impose, and was fined $50, or in the alternative a month's imprisonment. Last week he appealed against the conviction, before Mr. Justice Sercombe Smith, his case being conducted by Mr. Chepard, who argued that the appellant was not a vagrant because he had a settled abode, and that what he had done was part of a belief by many Chinese in the god Wong Tye Sin, and he asked the Court not to interfere with what was a religious belief. For the Crown. Mr. Hastings Rhodes submitted that the evidence was ample that the man had told fortunes, and likened the case to the organgrinder and canary method of telling fortunes at Home-a pastime in which the Deputy Public strong as their opponents, although Lt. Prosecutor admitted having indulged in in his

> His Lordship said that in his opinion the conviction did not interfere with the religious opinions of any Chinese in Singapore. He had merely to decide whether this man professed to tell fortunes or not, and the evidence given before the magistrate proved that he did so. His Lordship was not interfering with the man's religious beliefs in the least bit. there was no evidence the fortune-telling acts were account of the man's religion, unless his religion were his own property. But there was ample evidence that he told fortunes for his own profit, and had made it a lucrative means of existence in the past. This might not appear to be a very serious matter, but appellant had already been convicted of a similar offence, and his Lordship intended to do something which would put a stop to this kind of masquerading under the garb of religion and of mulcting the poor Chinese of Singapore. A more fine of $50 was, in his opinion, totally inadequate to meet a case of this kind, and he would therefore dismiss the appeal and, in place of the fine of $50, impose a sentence of two months' rigorous imprisonment.

> This was explained to appellant who was present in Court. His only response was a request for mercy.

A GOVERNOR ON GOVERNING.

General Van Heutez, the retiring Governor-General of Netherlands India, on turning over the appointment to his successor, Mr. Idenburg, at Batavia, delivered a speech, which caused some sensation. He dwelt upon attacks which had been made upon him personally, and pointedly remarked that he had administered the government to the best of his ability without respect of persons. In his opinion, in governing a Colony, the advice of the men on the spot should be followed. Mr. Idenburg made a few remarks and made known the fact that General Van Heutsz had been decorated with the Grand-Cross of the Order of the Netherlands Lion. It may be noted that General Van Hentsz had arcused much bad blood by following a policy of "thorough" regardless of expense, especially in enforcing the authority of Government in islands where it had hitherto been slack.

Next year, all being well, will witness a renewed crusade against phthisis throughout France. The latter country longs for the glorious day when she will be able-as she so fervently hopes—to proclaim tuberculosis a ourable disease.

APPARITIONS. The French are a very superstitious people hence why they attach so much importance to all sorts of romances concerning visions apparitions. The latest place to engage the attention of such firm believers is Orrouy, a little remote village in the west of France, which according to its good inhabitants is destined sooner or later to become every bit as famous as Lourdes-the Pilgrims' Mecca-which, half a century ago, was known just to the few for its ancient castle. Then, in 1858, the peasant girl. Bernadette Soubirons, saw the apparitions of the Virgin, who, it is said revealed to her the miraculous powers of the springs. Very like the case of Bernadette Soubirons is that of Suzanne Bertin, a little peasant girl who also has visions at Oirong. I is not, however, the Virgin who appears to Suzanne, but the recently beatified Pucelle, in other words, Joan of Arc. The apparitions are confidently expected that the beautiful excreating considerable interest in France at the present time. PRESIDENTS AS SPORTSMEN. The "Chasses Présidentielles" are now in full swing, and will continue until after the New Year; this means that the coverts of Rambouillet and other official residences will be shot over by M. Fallières and his distinguished guests. The President has reputation of being a good average shot, but he shows little enthusiasm for the chase. One of his predecessors, M. Thiers, showed even less, for. despite the brilliant shooting parties military household, he never would consent to fire a gun. President MacMahon, disdained the "Chasses Présidentielles" for quite another reason. He had shot big game in Africa, and considered it child's play to knock over pheasants and partridges. The absence of danger greatly detracted from his pleasure. M. Cyrévy M. Carnot considered it as one of the duties of his office to entertain shooting parties at he was a poor shot, and his "maladresse" or clumsiness is remembered by everyone, especially by General Brugère, who was so unfortunate as to receive the contents of the President's gun in a part of his anatomy that prevented him sitting down for some time after. M. Casimir-Perior was an excellent shot, The Dodwell New York Line's str. Suruga | while M. two or three birds with one shot. It must, however, be said that in the case of Presidential "battues" the game is always very thick together. M. Loubet made no pretensions at being a great shot, but he was a good average "gun" all the same.

REMARKABLE SURGICAL OPERATION. One of the most remarkable surgical operations ever performed was brought to a success ful issue by Dr. Cerné a few days ago, in the Behring, Maragliano, &c., the terrible scourge Rouen hospital. The sale of horse flash is regulated by the municipal authorities. In Paris the sanitary inspection is very strict, so that those who like horse, ass or mule steaks have the consolation of knowing that every precaution is taken to see that they receive good meat. A FLOBAL EXHIBITION.

Considerable interest is being taken in the scheme of M. Jean Ajalbert, the Conservator or Keeper of the Chateau de Malmaison, who contemplates holding a floral exhibition in the Spring at the former residence of the Empress Joséphine. It will not however. an ordinary flower show, but an exhibition of the flowers of Malmaison, those that had their origin there and were so dear to Josephine. The first real floral museum dates from Malmaison. Joséphine, it will be remembered came from Martinique, and she adored flowers, inches long with a wooden handle, She had immense conservatories installed here, there, and everywhere in the immense Imperial property of Malmaison. The care she took of her floral treasures is evidenced by the fact that the conservatories had three temperatures, and the rarest specimens were cultivated to perfect committed the dastardly crime, she was taken tion. Whole boatloads of flowers brought their to the Police Station in order to be examined perfumed cargoes from the Island of Martinique to the ports of France. It frequently happened that the English captured these vessels on their way to the Empress, but the officers. after admiring the beautiful floating hothouses, gallantly restored their prizes to the sovereign, at the same time requesting her to accept their compliments. All the principal florists for miles around Paris possess types of flowers which retain the names of Josephine and Malmaison. It was to Malmaison—the Empress's favourite residence—that Joséphine retired after her divorce from Napoleon, and where she ended her days. The charming exhibition which M. Ajalbert is organising next year will, he hopes, include many of these floral souvenirs of the Empress, lent by French and other gardeners and florists. All the conservatories and lawns of Malmaison will be placed at the disposal of the exhibitors. It hibition at Malmaison will be the event of the season in horticultural circles. If it is not, it

CHANGING LONDON.

Few, if any, cities of the Old World hav

changed more within the past few years than London. The man who knew the Strand. for instance, a decade since would scarce recognise it were he to return to-day. Booksellers'-row has gone, and the narrow ending to the east has been swallowed up in a splendid avenue. Clare Market, with its desperate slums, has disanpeared. The old familiar corner by Waterloo when to retain the exclusive services of one Bridge is totally transformed. A little further | such for, perhaps, half a score of toy dogs was un where once many old buildings stood, there thought the high-water mark of extravagance is now the fine entrance archway to the Savoy in that particular direction. For some years experts have declared that electrification of inter-urban railways must entering the Orleans Stations. Newcastle has a notable and successful electric system for all local services. Within twelve years, in all probability, the entire railway service within a ten-mile radius of Charing Cross will be electrified, except possibly, for goods traffic. The gain will be enormous from the public point of view, in the increase of quiet and the freedom from smoke and dirt. The District Railway is already showing us something of what electrification means, and its old smoke-scaked tunnels and stations are to-day being transformed into and it was not unusual for him to bring down light, clean, and bright traffic ways. - Overseas

THE ATTEMPT ON THE LIFE OF THE KOREAN PREMIER.

The following account is taken from the Seoul Press of the 23rd ult. :-Yesterday morning an attempt was made by a Korean youth on the life of Mr. Yi Wan-youg, the Premier.

Mr. Yi attended the service for the late King Leopold II. of Belgium at the Roman Catholic Cathedral here, and on getting into his r kisha after the service was over was starting for home when suddenly a Korean youth made his appearance and stabled him with a dagger in the back from behind. Mr. Yi jumped out of his rikisha and dashed toward the brick wall of the cathedral. The would-be assassin chased and caught him as the Premier fell into the small ditch running alongside the wall. A struggle ensucd and the wretch was about to give a final blow with the dagger when one of the Japanese police guards of the Premier came to his rescue, and took firm hold of his assailant. Mr. Yi then rose and left for home by rikisha. He was wounded in the shoulders and abdomen, but it is stated that none of his wounds are serious enough to warrant apprehension for his life. The would-be assassin was arrested on the spot by Policeman Miyatake, but not until he hadreceived a sabre thrust from the latter. The puller of the Premier's rikisha, who gallantly sprang at the assassin in rescue of his master, was mortally struck in the lungs. The poor fellow died soon

The villain gave his name and age as Yi Chaimyon, twenty-one years old. He confessed that he had once been in America and that he was a Christian convert. Besides the dagger which he used a pistol was found on his person. It is said that when arrested he spoke loudly in English, evidently addressing the foreigners in the crowd, to the effect that he felt great indignation at the present situation of his fatherland and that he had dared the attempt from intense love of his country.

According to the statement of Surgeon-General Kikuchi, President of the Tai Han Hospital, who examined the wounds of Mr. Yi Wan-your vesterday, the Premier received a wound in his shoulder and two others in the loins. All the wounds are deep and there was a considerable loss of blood from them. His Excellency is in a serious condition. Medical measures have been taken to repair this loss, and the life of the distinguished patient, it is said, will depend largely upon the success of these measures. THE ASSASSIN.

Yi Chaimyong, the assassin, is reported to have studied at a school in San Francisco, having crossed to the United States six years ago. He came back to Korea in September last year. and, according to his own deposition, went to Vladivostock some time ago, returning to Pyongyang about two months ago. He came to Secul but recently. He is reported to have declared that he is a friend of An Chungkenn, the murderer of the late Prince Ito, but that in his present crime he has no accomplices. He is a young man of medium height, with a long face and broad forehead. At the time when he made the attempt on the life of the Premier, he was dressed in Korean clothes and were foreign shoes. The Japanese policeman Miyatake, who arrested him, states that on being examined the man showed the utmost coolness and spoke in a defiant tone with a smile on his lips. Despite the horribleness of the crime he committed, he was not in the least excited and his pulse was found to be beating normally. The weapon which Yi used is a two-edged dagger about thought that it was made from an old Cossack

His wife, O Insyong, is said to be a student of the Yangsin Girls' School here, and is pretty young girl. Soon after her husband

LUXURY IN SERVANTS

MODERN SPECIALISTS "BELOW STAIRS." Nothing is more indicative of the luxury-run-riot of this ultra-luxurious age than the present tendency towards the multiplication of servants of all kinds and classes. One master, one valet, used to be the rule. There are men in Society to-day who have a first, second, third, fourth, and fifth valet. In great mansions, where one master of the boots used to suffice, there are now frequently three or four, each of them specialising in one particular kind of footwear. A mistress of the boots, too, has made her appearance in certain smart houses, and her office is no sinecure either. when she is employed, as is usually the case, by a hostess who entertains largely and lavishly. Such a one will frequently have a round dozen or more of her women friends staying with her at the same time, and each of them will bring with her two or three boot trunks, containing from forty to sixty pairs of boots and shoes. Of course, not all these are usually worn, unless the guest's stay is prolonged beyond the regulation "dine and sleep," or " week end," visit; but to properly renovate even the comparatively small percentage that are likely to be ordinarily used, is no light task. ONE DOG, ONE MAID.

It seems only the other day, so to speak, since the kennel-maid first made her appearance, and

Now, a head kennel maid, with at least one

Not even the dinner-table is exempt from its nofepaper, balanced on a solitary peche Mella. Yet for it are retained, year in and year out the exclusive services of a highly-skilled and highly-salaried maid, whose knowledge of toy dog lore is said to be, and probably is, altogether unrivalled and unique.

MODERN HUNTING FASHION.

Take the hunting-field, again. How the oldfashioned riders to hounds of forty or fifty years of second horsemen, motor-cars to the meet, and | Manchurian Railway may be greatly checked. such-like ultra-luxurious "fads and fancies. they would most certainly style them if they | that a continuance of the European demand for were alive to day.

Sturdy fellows they were, a bit coarse, but fertilizer market in Japan. they didn't have a groom following them all over the country with spare mounts. If a horse couldn't stay out a day's hunting, they sold him or shot him. Those were the days when a M. F. H. could hunt his pack four days a week for £400 a year. It costs him £4,000 now, and it is doubtful whether he gets so much sport, or lifetime. A. S. Watson & Co. Ltd. Sole Agents

DINING UP-TO-DATE.

Probably, however, it is in connection with our eating and drinking that the difference between the service of yesterday and to-day is most marked. Contrast the modern maitre de bouche and his scores of dozens of dainty and appetising confections with the old-fashioned cook, often a woman, whose soul seldom soured beyond plain reast and boiled, with perhaps an occasional—a very occasional—suprême or noisette, produced with a vast flourish of trumpets for some extra special occasion. The difference is as marked, the gulf is as immense, between the two as it is between the up-to-date wine steward of to-day, with his intimate knowledge of brands, vintages, and prices, and the old-fashioned butler of our forefathers, who knew the taste of a good glass of port, sherry, or claret, and little else besides. PALATIAL KITCHENS.

What, too, would those self-same forefathers of ours have thought of the present-day fashion of having, not one kitchen, but half-a-dozen, each with its separate staff?

How they would stare, could they but visit in the flesh some of the stately palaces that modern wealth has been able to rear in our midst, to find there a hot kichen. and a cold kitchen, a soup kitchen, fish kitchen, and a vegetable kitchen, to say nothing of separate accessory departments wherein coffee is roasted and made, fruit and flowers dealt with, salads mixed, pastry prepared, and so on ! The result of all this multiplication and subdivision of the labour incidental to gastronomy is, of course, to greatly increase the staff of domestics in this direction, and incidentally in all others.

Twenty or thirty years ago, from twenty to thirty servants were thought ample for even quite large sized mansions. To-day, staffs numbering considerably over one hundred individuals are common.—M. A. P.

FINANCIAL CRISIS IN MANCHURIA

An Yinkow telegram of 23rd December to the Tokyo Mainichi states that owing to the rise in the price of soja beans many Chinese merchants are becoming bankrupt and a financial panic prevails in Manchuria. Despite the imminence of the end of the year, business is

In this connection, a Tokyo message to the Asaka Asahi quotes a Changchun telegram to the effect that a Chinese agricultural company. with which the Changchun Taotai is connected. failed to deliver 200,000 koku of beans to Messrs. Samuel, Samuel and Co., and that the latter are claiming a large sum as compensation. This and other failures of a similar nature are greatly disturbing the financial position throughout Manchuria. The message goes on to assert that Messre. Jardine. Matheson and Co., and Messrs. Otto Reimers and Co., influenced by the fact that the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha exported about 200,000 tons of beaus during last year, decided to take up this business on a great scale and entered into a number of contracts with Chinese. The London office of Messrs. Samuel, Samuel, and Co., in especial, sent large numbers of orders for beans to its branch in Manchuria. Consequently, since the end of October many steamers have arrived at Tairen to take home cargoes of beans, but have been surprised to find only small stocks awaiting them. This is due to the fact that a num. ber of the Chinese merchants concerned broke the contracts owing to a rise in prices caused by other Chinese buying beans largely in rivalry with them, the quotation jumping from Yen 2.70 or Yen 2.80 per 100 kin to Yen 3. As the attempt to make a corner in beans has continued the accumulation of steamers waiting for carges at Tairon has increased and the quotation has now risen to even Yen 3.50. It is regarded as certain, the Tokyo message adds. that the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha and the foreign firms will sustain severe losses. It is also feared that the development of Tairen's trade with Europe will be checked and that the export of Manchurian beans to Japan and South China may be interferred with. Furthermore, several bean-cake factories have been compelled to suspend business in consequence of the rise of prices. The affair, according to the message, is causing considerable anxioty, as it is thought that it may lead the big firms to become disgusted with the bean trade, while making the Manchurian producers thun big harvests, so that the progress back would have strice ut the modern fashious of Tairen and the regions along the South "as On the other hand, it is said that it is feared Manchurian beans will prove a great blow to the

THE TRADE OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS IN 1909.

We take the following from a retrospect of Balgownie ($10) the year that is gone which we find in the Batu Caves (£1) Straits Times :-

The year 1903 closed under conditions of in. Con. Malay (£1) tense depression, and 1906 began without much | H & Lowlands (£1) confidence that the dark days were near an end. We are not prepared to say that the past twelve | Malacca (£1) months have been full of confidence and enterprise in the Straits Settlements, or elsewhere, but at least the affirmation may be made that Sungei Kapar (£) gloomy forebodings have not been realised. Sungei Way (£1) The figures we shall quote tell the story of local trade indifferently, because Singapore does not is a matter of relief and satisfaction, though current market rates their value shows an most local merchants will say, that the close increase of about £90 upon the prices current in margins between buying and selling prices January. are still a source of worry, and compel business to be done at mere fractional profits. The blunt truth is that for a good deal of this the that industrials have been fairly steady during the European merchants have themselves to blame. year. Tin shares quoted in the ordinary published lists have varied a good deal. The increases total for common ends. We have reason to believe, however, that most of the great firms, will report to principals at home in more gratifying terms from these, increase and decrease practically than was possible twelve months ago, and that balance. Prices for tin, as we have seen above, they look forward to an increase of business in have improved, but there have been one or two

Ours is a commercial community, made up of buyers, sellers, shippers, and little else, and it feels every variation of world trade acutely to a conclusion. It has been remarked lately lay, Mr. Balfour, a distant kinsman of the When depression prevailed we insisted that there is very little capital available for it was not due to mere local circumstances, the encouragement of new enterprises, at all barrister resident at Johannesburg. and from ALL WINE MERCHANTS. [46] but to a fall in values noticeable all over the world, which affected the products of factories would be highly interesting. If it means and workships to a greater extent than the raw that few rubber shares were held here twelve produce we deal with on the export side of our months ago and that spare capital has gone to business. The improvements we have to record buy them in the course of the year at the are due to similar causes, and we cannot take inflated prices, we do not know that there is the flattering unction to our souls that the much cause for congratulation. If, on the stress of circumstances has evolved higher other hand, the profits made by selling the stock forms of enterprise. We are as we were, but of old companies, as well as the original capital,

These figures give the total trade of the colony as $577,747,304, and when we remark that there was a decrease of 62 millions of dollars in the first quarter, they must surely be gratifying.

The most noteworthy feature is the very large increase at the port of Malacca, and this may be put down in a great measure to the developments of the rubber industry.

THE RUBBER BOOM. But the real interest of the year lies outside the limits of what can be described in strict terms as commerce. In time to come 1909 will be remembered as the Robber Boom period, and it will fully deserve that designation. A glut of rubber, just at the time when a wave of depression had begun to form, caused prices to touch a lower these shares would be a sound investment, and they have been rewarded for their prescience. Prices had begun to recover before the end of 1908 and their upward progress was steady until about April, when the advance was by leaps and bounds until such rates as 9/-, and, in a few cases, even 10/- per lb. were quoted for fine six months in advance, and in 1908, when there appeared to be no positive prospect of profits, the usual advances were not forthcoming, and the effect of this became manifest the moment American users had exhausted their old stocks and come into the market again. At the Rubber Exhibition held in London during the autumn of 1908 the equality of best plantation with best Para was clearly established, and when the demand arose, and no adequate supply from Brazil was available to meet it. every ounce of Malayan rubber that could be harvested found a ready sale at famine prices. Beyond question the boom in the share market owes a great deal to these peculiar circumstances. We have no doubt that with rubber at steady 5/- per lb. there would have been an easy flow of new capital into a business which promises well, but there would have been fewer sensational dividends and less gambling in the shares

BOOM A MISFORTUNE Looking backward, and forward also, we come to the conclusion that the rise in prices due to the temporary failure of the Brazilian supply has been a misfortune to Malaya. No doubt a great many people have made handsome profits by judicious' dealings in shares, and some eminent boards of directors have added to their own and their friends' banking accounts at the expense of their reputations for strict equity. Chinese pioneers, and Europeans to whom they sold options, have done well also, and if the wealth of people in Malaya on December 31, 1938, and now could be accurately compared, we should expect to find an The length and breadth is given as 52 feet 6 the result of the year's transactions. Whether the result has been good for the country is quite another matter. What we fear is that most of the new companies are over-capitalised, and that when the increased output of rubber brings down prices, many of these companies which have neglected to provide a sufficient margin of working capital will find themselves in difficulties, with no one very eager to give them a helping hand. THE OLDEST VESSEL IN COMMIS.

The distinction of being the oldest vessel in commission in the world undoubtedly falls to the little Danish sloop Constance. Today she is still busy as a tramp between Danish ports, seldom failing to get her carge of flour or lime, and carry it safely over the same Belts and sounds with which she has been familiar for 185 years. That this particular age is correct was stated by the Danish Bureau of Shipping only a short time ago. Until recently she figured in the official lists without any age at I, but by looking over the archives very carefully, the Bureau could follow her way the very year in which she was built. REGARDING

JOHNSTONE'S M.P.

PURE MALT WHISKIES.

WILLIAM GRANT & SONS, LTD., THE GLENFIDDICH DISTILLERY, DUFFTOWN, NB.

"Our analyses of these Whiskies indicate that the statements made in regard to them are bonest—that is to say, that they are Pure Malt Whiskies distilled in the Pot Still. Moreover, the evidence of the palate is in favour of the statement that they are fully matured. The flavour, while malty and rich, is 'soft.' A feature in the analytical results was the amount of Ethers. The amount of Ethers represents a maximum quantity for Whisky. It may be remarked also that acidity of these Whiskies was practically nil. These Whiskies are well adapted for SPECIAL DIETETIC PURPOSES."

OBTAINABLE AT ALL THE WINE MERCHANTS.
